Carved by the natural
flow of water

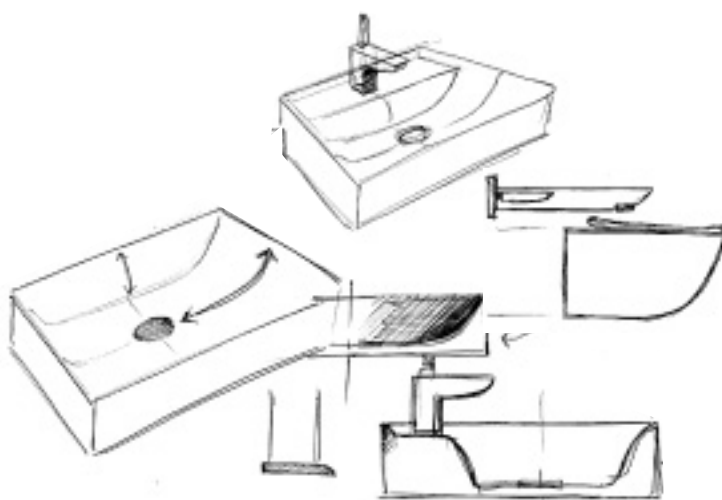

Confluence bamboo-style faucet has directly inspired the design of Confluence sanitary ware. Perfectly angled pure geometries, based on the half-cut circle outline, merged with curved and organic surfaces. Water can change shape and adapt to the vessels, and stay flowing, and free. Precise flat surfaces, perfectly angled bodies couple exactly with the faucet design. And the smooth surfaces and fluent transitions embody the natural fluidity of water. The internal bowl of the basins appears smooth as a river pebble, carved-in by a waterfall.

Ceramics

Grace, elegance,
and delicate details

Lexa collection is a perfectly balanced combination of rigorous and precise surfaces with classical linear arches. Impressive thanks to its sharp edges and a unique flat design, Lexa faucet is complemented by a range of sanitary ware that bring grace and elegance to the entire bathroom with its delicate details. Harmony is created by combining round and square, smooth and sharp, expected and unexpected, familiar and new. A symbiosis of pure precision, functionality and timeless elegance.
